GERMANS RUSH MORE TROOPS INTO TUNISIA

Transport Planes and Gliders Used, As Rain Holds Up Fighting

YANKS BATTLE TO BREAK UP TRAFFIC

Allied Air Power Growing Stronger For Impending Battle

BY WES GALLAGHER
Allied Headquarters, North Africa, Dec. 11.—In an attempt to halt the advance of American paratroopers and tanks threatening to cut Axis land communications between Tunis and Tripoli, the Germans are rushing reinforcements into central Tunisia by transport plane and glider as heavy rains delay operations on the land front farther north.

While big Junkers-52 transports and their glider tows played a deadly game of hide and seek with United States P-38 fighters trying to break up the traffic, other Axis forces were reported pushing inland from coastal bases at Sfax, Gabes and Sousse to meet the Americans.

Supported by French fighters, the American troops—picked fighters commanded by Col. Edson Raff—are French forces consisting of infantry, artillery and camel corps units. Raff's mixed command gave the Germans a decisive licking last week northwest of Tebessa, some 150 miles from the coast, and since then has been reported working its way steadily eastward.

The situation in the north, meanwhile, appeared to have developed into a battle for control of the air, which Allied officials say must be decided before either side can strike a decisive blow.

A Reuters dispatch from Tunisia last night reported a fresh outbreak of fighting near Tebourba, where the Germans were said to have hurled new tank attacks against the Allied lines.

(The Berlin radio reported that Axis forces had occupied Tabarka, Tunisian seaport some 60 miles west of Tebourba. Allied sources in London expressed doubt concerning the veracity of the report, saying the Germans would have had to fight their way through strongly-held territory to reach Tabarka.)

Rain Hampers Operations

Except for patrol clashes, little fighting has been reported for several days in northern Tunisia, where roads have been turned into quagmires by rain.

Both sides have been handicapped by the weather, but the Allies

STRANGE STORIES ARE TOLD OF DESERT

Weather Quirks, Other Details Are Revealed by News Writer

BY DEWEY MACDONALD
With The British Eighth Army in Libya, Dec. 11.—When your boys who are fighting here in the United States air forces as allies of the British write home and tell strange tales of their lives in the desert, you need not smile indulgently and tuck their letters away among your souvenirs as bits of romancing.

I am writing from an inhospitable zone where at times man literally could cook to death under the merciless sun. He might die for want of water, which does not exist hereabouts.

Yet I'm wearing British battle dress which is made of extremely heavy wool and buttons right to the chin. Underneath this load I have a wool jersey and it is a cold fact that I would give a good deal right now for an overcoat.

A Cold Night
Tonight I shall all but freeze in my bed on the ground despite woolen pajamas, an elderdown sleeping bag, several wool blankets and a raincoat piled on top.

This is winter but yesterday on a hillside I picked white daisies and buttercups.

I rubbed my eyes when I encountered a gray-coated kangaroo about six inches tall. He had big hind legs for jumping and absurd little front arms.

Scorpions, centipedes and poisonous snakes afford far less pleasant experiences, especially when they invade your tent.

WHO SAID RATION BOARD WAS TOUGH?

The pleas of a young couple who expressed a fond desire for a short honeymoon trip before the groom had to leave for the army, touched the heartstrings of the Salem Rationing board yesterday.

The couple appeared before members of the board's gasoline panel to request a small additional gasoline allowance in order that they might make a trip into Pennsylvania.

The request was granted.

JAYCEES ASKING YULE DONATIONS

Want to Present Pair of Slippers to Each Fairmount Child

The Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce appealed today for fund donations to help the organization purchase enough gifts for the children at the Fairmount home who will be entertained by the Jaycees at a Christmas party in the home Monday, Dec. 21.

Just between you and Santa, the Junior Chamber fellows would like to present each boy and girl at the Fairmount home with a pair of slippers.

The chamber's appeal goes out not only to individuals, but to other civic and fraternal organizations who might be able to help.

Albert Hanna, chairman of the joint Red Cross and Junior Chamber committee, points out.

Slippers would be a welcome gift at the Fairmount home.

At the Jaycees Christmas party Dec. 21, William F. Ross, Salem magician, is going to entertain the youngsters with sleight-of-hand tricks.

Persons with other donations for the home are asked to leave them at the Red Cross office in the Memorial building.

U. S. CRUISER DOCKS AFTER EPIC BATTLE

San Francisco survives One of Most Amazing Chapters in Naval History

WHIPS JAP VESSEL IN SOLOMONS TILT

First American Warship to Be Designated For Gallantry

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—The battered cruiser San Francisco, which fought and whipped a Japanese battleship in an epic engagement off the Solomons last month, plowed in through the golden gate under her own power today.

The ship, which survived one of the most amazing chapters in modern naval history, came in for repairs and, incidentally, for the homage of her proud home port and the nation at large. She is the first American combat vessel of the war for which a decoration has been designated for gallantry in action.

The navy said the San Francisco would dock this afternoon and civic and military authorities were to go aboard for brief welcoming ceremonies. Stories of her exploits were to be broadcast nationally from her wounded decks (3 p. m. PWT).

The ship was in command of Capt. Albert F. France, Jr., of New York City.

It was on the San Francisco that the task force commander, Rear Admiral Daniel J. Callaghan, and the cruiser's skipper, Capt. Cassin Young, went to their deaths in early stages of the Nov. 13-15 battle in which 28 Japanese ships were sunk.

The San Francisco will be repaired at nearby Mare Island where she was launched on March 9, 1933. Commander Bruce McCandless of Long Beach, who took over command of the San Francisco after his senior officers were killed and who himself was wounded, was met here by his father, Capt. Byron McCandless, commander of the destroyer base at San Diego.

Question Legality Of Keno Tax Action

COLUMBUS, Dec. 11.—The state's right to collect admissions taxes on keno games was questioned in court for the first time today, but a spokesman for the Ohio board of tax appeals said the action apparently was "ill-founded."

William J. Cuthbert, secretary of lodge 613, Loyal Order of Moose, Steubenville, contended in a common pleas suit that state tax commissioner William S. Ewart "erroneously" ordered the lodge to pay $2,027 in admissions taxes.

He contended that patrons did not pay admissions to keno games but paid "for the privilege of playing."

The tax board spokesman said he thought the action was "ill-founded" because a recent statute requires filing of appeals from orders of the tax commissioner with the board instead of in common pleas court, as provided under previous law. He added that Ohio courts never before had been asked to rule on the legality of admissions taxes on keno or bingo games.

STRONG CITES NEED FOR FARM WORKERS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 11.—The toughest farm problem in Ohio in 1943, a U. S. employment service representative predicts, will be the recruiting of sufficient labor to harvest beet sugar and tomato crops in the northeastern section of the state.

Ralph A. Strong, regional farm placement agent of the U. S. E. S., told conferees studying farm labor problems of Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky here yesterday that "we believe we can get by with no more than the usual 3,000 imported workers for sugar beet cultivation and harvest," but added that it might be necessary to recruit help from Puerto Rico as well as Mexico to provide the necessary "stoop laborers."

To "get by" with 3,000 next year, Strong said the workers would have to be "obtained through the U. S. E. S. rather than by contract with private companies and farms," thereby permitting the laborers to be used on other crops and not restricting them to stipulated numbers of acres and beets.

REDS MAKING FRESH GAINS

Violent Fighting Flares Along Broad Area of Central Front

(By Associated Press)
MOSCOW, Dec. 11.—Violent fighting flared along a broad area of the central front today with a break in the blizzard which had swept the Muscovite plains for several days while on the Stalingrad front the Red Army has made fresh progress in three sectors, the Russians reported today.

Resumption of big-scale operations in the snow-crusts Velikie Luki-Rzhev area, west of Moscow, was reported to have started with heavy but ineffective German counter-attacks upon wedges driven into enemy lines in the recent Red army offensive.

These clashes were developing all along the 140-mile strip between Rzhev and Velikie Luki, where Soviet forces now stand only 90 miles from the Latvian border.

Hundreds of German dead were left on the Stalingrad battlefields, the noon communique and dispatches from the front reported.

In one sector southwest of Stalingrad seven picked guardsmen of the Red army held off repeated attacks by a company of German infantry against their height and then forced them to flee, leaving 80 dead behind, the communique said.

The occupation of the German defense lines, declared to be one of the most significant phases in the fighting of recent days, followed an attack by the Germans in the sector between the Volga and Don rivers, the Russians said.

Red Star, the army newspaper, reported that in another sector northwest of Stalingrad a large Russian rifle unit outflanked German forces.

PLANT HEADS HEAR MATERIALS PLANS

One hundred manufacturing officials and representatives of plants in northern Columbiana county heard explanations of the new controlled materials plan at a meeting in the Memorial building Thursday night, arranged by the Salem Civilian Defense council.

Principal speaker was E. Oscar Kuendig of Canton, district manager for the War Production board, who was accompanied here by four other district WPA aids.

Kuendig's talk was followed by the showing of slides explaining the controlled materials plan.

Att'y Ralph Atkinson, chairman of the defense council, presided.

JAPS GET TRICKY—8 OF THEM KILLED

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—"Eup, two, three, four, hup..." cracked the American voice out of the foggy darkness. "Okay boys, get your stuff together—we're pulling out of there..."

The detachments of marines camped on a cricket field on Tulagi island in the Solomons could see ten figures approaching. One young sergeant arose dutifully to his feet and started to join the ten.

Then another sergeant yelled a word that meant "Japs!" to the marines, and their rifles volleyed. Eight of the ten Japs died, including the one with the American education whose voice baited the trap.

"I guess that indicates how tough Tojo is," said Capt. Robert Neuffer, 23, of Hempstead, New York, in relating the incident to reporters yesterday. "That trick took guts."

SCHEDULE AT P-O WILL BE EXTENDED

Will Remain Open On Saturdays For Remainder Of Month

The Salem postoffice is going to remain open all day on Saturdays for the balance of December for the convenience of the public and in order to facilitate the handling of mail, Postmaster A. E. Beardmore announced today.

Saturdays ordinarily provide a half-day working schedule for postal employees.

The postmaster explained that by extending the Saturday schedules, persons who are working might have an additional opportunity to mail packages, greeting cards, etc., and to purchase their stamps now in order to avoid standing in line later on.

Letter cancellations at the post-office already are on the increase, with hundreds of packages coming through for distribution.

The people, generally, are mail-frenzied this year, Beardmore added. Stamp purchases also are greater at this time of the year than they were a year ago today.

PLAN DEDICATION OF WAR LIST BOARD

LISBON, Dec. 11.—The village of Rogers, eight miles east of here, is planning a dedication of its new war roster board, containing the names of 45 men of that community now serving their country, which will be erected in a prominent place in the village.

The painting, art work and lettering of the board was completed early this week by J. Homer Browne, local artist whose handiwork on the Lisbon war roster board has brought nation-wide attention.

Browne is also working on a war roster board for the West Point community and expects to complete it within the next week, including the lettering of 52 names on the honor roll of the former mining community.

TELL STORY OF GONA CAPTURE

Jap Dead Piled High: Many of Japs Take Own Lives As Aussies Arrive

(By Associated Press)
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Dec. 11.—An Australian commander's terse announcement at 5 p. m., Dec. 9—"Gona gone"—marked the capture of the tough position on the northern Papua coast which was first taken by the Japanese July 22.

The Australians slackened fire just before dusk to observe enemy movements and the possibilities of counter-attacks or escapes by the foe. For the first time, the full effect of American aerial bombs and heavy Allied ground fire on the Japanese was plainly evident as the Aussies saw enemy soldiers wandering about dazedly.

Australian small arms dropped several of these Japanese from close range.

Sweeping the beach back and forth with tracers from light and heavy machine-guns, the Australians wiped out the Japanese attempting to escape. Morning saw the sands strewn with dead.

Moving with extreme caution, the Australians entered the Gona mission over piles of Japanese dead. A few Japanese remaining in foxholes and dugouts fought on until killed.

One Japanese officer jumped from his dugout, brandishing a sword from an Australian officer. A burst from a tommy gun felled the swordsman.

Australians said some Japanese pulled the pins from hand grenades, pressed them to their breasts and were blown to bits. One shot himself with his rifle, pulling the trigger with a string attached to his toe.

Reporting On Lend-Lease, Says Axis Has Lost Initiative

"WE MUST KEEP IT". HE TELLS CONGRESS

Single World Strategy To Achieve Victory Urged By President

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—President Roosevelt informed congress today that by the end of this month, American forces overseas will number more than 1,000,000 men.

The President, in the seventh quarterly report on lend-lease operations, said in a letter of transmittal that the Axis powers "have, temporarily at least, lost the initiative," and added:

"We must do all we can to keep them from regaining it."

Lend-Lease Aid Grows
Lend-lease aid in the last three months up to Dec. 11, totaled $3,387,000,000, he reported. This was more than a third higher than the figure for the previous quarter and four times the total for the three months immediately preceding United States entry into the war.

The President said that since the last report the war had entered a new phase with United Nations forces attacking from Egypt and North Africa and contesting with the Axis "for control of the African coastline of the Mediterranean."

"The Soviet army, having held with stubborn bravery at Stalingrad, has now assumed the offensive," he added. "The Japanese have been recklessly expending ships and men on the Solomon Islands."

"The Axis powers have, temporarily at least, lost the initiative. We must do all we can to keep them from regaining it."

Urges Single Strategy
The chief executive went on to say that "we must bring the full strength of all the United Nations to bear directly against the enemy," adding:

"We must bring together our joint productive capacity and our material resources, our finished munitions, and our fighting power; and we must do this in accordance with a single world strategy."

Seniors Score In Class Production

High school Senior thespians did themselves proud last night in presenting the first performance of their class play, "Everybody's Crazy," to a capacity audience in the High school auditorium.

The comedy with the plot centered around a supposedly haunted hotel, was enacted without a hitch. The play will be repeated again at 8:15 tonight.

Lead roles are taken by Janet Taylor and Herbert Hansell. Paul Evans turns in a fine performance as "Adam Pottle," mustached traveler fresh from the gold-mining district.

Music was furnished by the Salem High school orchestra. The play is directed by Miss Alpha Combs, assisted by Faye Conrad.

mans in a group of strongly-fortified hills and, disregarding strong fire, cut off an important road. The German force reorganized and tried to dislodge the Russians but failed, Red Star added.

Another Red Star story from the front disclosed that a battle for an unidentified populated front southwest of Stalingrad was in its third day after the Germans had massed reserves against the Russian advance.

In Stalingrad itself, the communists said, garrisons were destroyed in a dozen enemy block-houses and about a company of officers and men was wiped out in battling on the southern outskirts.

West of Rzhev, on the central front, about two companies of enemy attacks were beaten off with heavy losses to the Germans near Velikie Luki, the communists stated.

An earlier communistic said that intensive German counter-attacks in the Rzhev-Velikie Luki area had won the Germans a slight advance but their losses were heavy and the Russians stopped their men and tanks.

"In these engagements the Germans suffered great losses in men and material. Forty crippled or burned-out tanks were left by them on the battlefield," the war bulletin said.

"Nine German aircraft were shot down in air combats and two were destroyed by anti-aircraft fire," it added.

GRANGE WINDS UP ANNUAL MEETING

COLUMBUS, Dec. 11.—The Ohio State grange today favored placing Ohio on Central instead of Eastern War time, classifying ice cream as a food and modifying regulations governing the use of school buses.

The grange at the close of its annual convention yesterday noted that ice cream is listed as a confection and no tires are granted trucks delivering it. A reduction in the sale of ice cream would "materially affect the dairymen of this state," a resolution said.

Office of Defense transportation officials were urged to change rules requiring children living two miles or less from school to walk to classes.

HOLD OFFICER ON CHARGES OF ARMY

Planned Subversive Element Within Ranks, Declares Newspaper

(By Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Dec. 11.—A young, unidentified army officer at Fort Lewis, Wash., has been arrested in connection with a reported attempt to "vilify President Roosevelt" and form a subversive element within the army, the Post-Intelligencer said today.

"It is understood," the newspaper said, "that the officer mailed seditious literature to members of the one-time America First committee and to William Dudley Pelley's Silver Shirts. The arrested officer likewise is reported to have attempted to organize a subversive organization within the army, itself."

The Post-Intelligencer described the officer as "a young man not long out of college and with a radical political background," and said he faces charges of sedition, "punishable by from 10 to 20 years in an army disciplinary barracks."

The foregoing story originally bore a "Specific restriction" from the army authority at Fort Lewis saying it had been approved for publication provided nothing larger than a one-column headline were used. A storm of protest from the nation's editors resulted.

Later the Office of Censorship in Washington informed editors they could use the story without the restriction, saying "no authority exists to order any restriction of press headlines or typographical arrangements of any kind."

Col. R. Ernest Dupuy, chief of the army public relations news division in Washington, added that the war department "is not issuing instructions to newspapers of the United States as to how they will handle news," and promised an investigation of the Fort Lewis restriction.

RAYON CHIFFON FROCKS ARE FLOWING, DIAPHANOUS

Left to right, white with pearl-embroidered girdle; misty rose-taupe gown; pale water green frock.

Perhaps as a reaction to the strong glitter influence in earlier collections, new midwinter styles introduce a delicate sweetness and fragility of flowing and diaphanous rayon chiffons. Delicate pastels and vivid tones are used for modified decollete styles that are delightfully young and festive. The white evening dress, left, is made along classically Greek tunic lines. The draping forms a deep V decollete both back and front, and an ornamental pearl-embroidered girdle further enhances the gown. Center, a bra-line molding is used on a rose taupe rayon chiffon frock, which has a rather low neckline and the briefest of sleeves. Originality is shown in the draping of the slenderly molded bodice of the pale water green evening dress, right. It is fashioned with a cross drape in close folds at the front and caught at each side of the neck front with jeweled clasps in a pointed sweetheart neckline.

WALKER MAY TAKE CHAIRMAN'S POST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 — Reports circulated on Capitol Hill today that Postmaster General Frank C. Walker is the Roosevelt administration's choice to succeed Edward J. Flynn of New York as national chairman of the Democratic party.

Flynn has indicated he will step down from the party leadership early in January. Those in a position to know said the election of Walker to the Democratic leadership would be acceptable to President Roosevelt and most of his advisors and might prevent a threatened cleavage in the party.

While it was indicated that the choice of Walker would be greeted with little enthusiasm on the part of members of congress who have not always agreed with Mr. Roosevelt's political views, it was not believed likely that any open protest would be made.

LIST MORE CHANGES IN GERMAN STAFF

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—After announcing appointment of Gen. Kurt Zeitzler as chief of the general staff of the German army, the Berlin radio disclosed in offhand fashion last night that two other comparatively little-known men are holding the positions of chiefs of staff in the German air force and navy.

The two were identified as Col. Gen. Hans Jesschonnek and an Admiral Fricke, both of whom apparently have had meteoric careers under the aegis of Adolf Hitler.

Although the German radio said casually that Jesschonnek had been serving as chief of staff for the air force since 1939, when he was a mere colonel, the information came as a surprise both here and in London.

Equally surprising was the reference to Admiral Fricke, whose identity is more or less of a mystery inasmuch as his first name was not mentioned by the German radio.

The broadcast did not say when Fricke had taken over the post of naval chief of staff. So far as was known here, Rear Admiral Otto Schniewind was serving in that capacity when he was broke out and German announcement of his appointment as fleet commander on June 11, 1941, made no mention of his having been relieved as chief of staff.

The harbor of Dakar, on the west coast of Africa, faces east.

PLAN EFFORTS TO CURE HENDERSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—Republican members of the house banking committee, which handles price-fixing and rationing legislation, served notice today that a determined effort would be made next month to curb the powers of Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

Representative Wolcott (R-Mich.),
ranking minority member, told the house yesterday he has ready for introduction in the new congress legislation to set up an appeal board as a "backstop" behind Henderson.

The board would be made up of representatives of labor, industry, agriculture and finance and would have authority to set aside or amend any of Henderson's orders and regulations.
Provision for such a board was contained in the original Price Control act when it passed the house, but a senate-house conference committee knocked it out.

"There will be some restraint placed upon Henderson's power by the next congress," Wolcott said.
He charged the Office of Price Administration was "usurping powers"
which Henderson "knows congress wouldn't give him if he asked for them."

AXIS PALS ENGAGE

LONDON, Dec. 11—Axis leaders exchanged "victory wishes today on the anniversary of the German and Italian declarations of war on the United States, according to Axis broadcasts.

Adolf Hitler messaged Emperor Hirohito of Japan that "our glorious deeds of arms guarantee our victory."

To Premier Mussolini of Italy
he said: "Through history, victory always has gone to those nations which, fighting for a just ideal against an obsolete world order, have dared their all."

Mussolini in a message to Hitler renewed "expression of my unshakable confidence in the success of our arms."

OHIO POLICE HOLD
WEST VIRGINIA MAN

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 11—Two escapes of the West Virginia state penitentiary, one of whom told authorities he "guessed" he had robbed every business place in Gallipolis, were held here today for prison officials.
Sheriff Earl Brandel identified the two as Jay Wilson, 35, and his brother, Truman Wilson, 26.
He said they were apprehended on a farm near here after residents asked officers to determine why the two weren't in the army.

The sheriff said Truman Wilson said he "guessed" he had robbed
every business place in Gallipolis.

GERMANS RUSHING AID INTO TUNISIA

Transport Planes and Glid-ers Used, As Rain Holds Up Fighting

have been hit harder because of their longer supply lines, which wind hundreds of miles through mountains, some already snow-capped.

Despite this situation, Allied spokesmen say that Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson and his British-American army are still ahead of schedule on the Allied war plan.

Generally speaking the ground forces now opposing each other along the Mateur-Tebourba line are roughly equal. The Germans, however, have had a great initial advantage in the air, having at their disposal ready-made bases in Sardinia and Sicily while Allied fighters have been forced to operate from makeshift fields in the Tunisian mountains.

Nevertheless American and British fighters have been gradually whittling down the German air strength, shooting down two planes
for every one they have lost.

Some sources estimate that the Germans, who have been withdrawing planes from western Europe and Russia, have about 1,000 aircraft at their disposal in the Mediterranean theater.

Allied air strength is growing steadily, however.

MEMORIAL PLANNED FOR LISBON HERO

LISBON, Dec. 11—Special memorial services will be held in the Christian church here at 3:30 p. m.
Sunday for Lieut. Howard R. Gilbert, killed in an airplane crash in western Europe Nov. 18 while returning from a bombing mission.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gilbert of Fritchard ave., Gilbert was Lisbon's first casualty in the present world conflict.

The service, planned jointly by the church of which the young man was a member, and John Welsh post, American Legion, is open to all friends of Bombardier Gilbert and his family.

Rev. Theodore Cord, pastor, will deliver the eulogy, and the American Legion color guard and band,
in charge of Commander J. Homer Brown, will participate in the service, placing a wreath at the foot of the church's honor roll of men in the service and affixing a gold star to the name of Lieut. Gilbert.

Mayor G. C. Rauch will speak briefly, expressing the sympathy of the community.

Military services for Gilbert, and three companions killed in the plane crash, were held at Brook-wood, England, 20 miles southwest of London, on Nov. 20.

COLUMBIANA

The Women's Republican club will meet at the home of Mrs. Harry Dill at 2:30 p. m. Monday.

The annual Sorosis Christmas party will be held next Wednesday evening at the E. of P. hall, with dinner at 6:30 p. m. Following the dinner a gift exchange will be a feature of the program. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Roy Bilger, Mrs. C. H. Shontz,
Mrs. Isiah Mowen and Miss Elizabeth Flickinger.

The annual Christmas party of the past Noble Grands club of the Rebekah lodge was held at the I. O.
O. F. hall Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snyder have arrived home from Glendale, Calif., where they spent several weeks with their sons, who are employed there.

Dog Wardens Elect
COLUMBUS, Dec. 11—The Ohio
County Dog Wardens' association elected H. L. Leffingwell of Cleveland president and Lee Minkler of Elyria vice president.

A lofty peak in Canada is named in memory of Edith Cavell, English nurse executed by the Germans in the first World war.

Back Plan For 7-Church Merger

The Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker (left) is pictured after being elected president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America succeeding Dr. Luther A. Weigle (right) of Yale university. Highlight of the council meeting in Cleveland was the approval of the council to the merger of seven national councils, representing 24 Protestant denominations into one group known as the North American Council of Churches of Christ.

BOWLING NEWS

The Draftsmen trimmed the second place. Purchasing twice last night at the Masonic temple to boost their Electric Furnace lead to two games. Night Shift A topped Electricals in two games to help out the leaders.

The Machinists gained on all their rivals as they shut out the Shippers and moved into a tie for second with the Electricals and Purchasing.

Structural blanked the Office and the Transformers trounced Night Shift B two games in other matches.

WPB Approves Materials For Airport Improvement

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—The War Production Board has approved priorities on materials to improve the Ohio university airport at Athens, Rep. Thomas Jenkins (R) of Ironton, O., said today.

The congressman said the board
acted on his recommendations following consultation with the war department and the Civil Aeronautic board.

Jenkins said he understood contracts would be awarded this month to speed completion of improvements. The work will be financed through a $100,000 state appropriation. The field will be used for pilot training.

ALLIED FIGHTERS DOWN NAZI PLANE

CAIRO, Dec. 11—Allied long-range fighters shot down a giant six-engine Axis plane and damaged two others in a battle off the north coast of Tripolitania yesterday, a British communique reported today.

A four-engine enemy plane also was reported severely damaged by Allied fighters in the same area.

(The enemy planes were not identified as to make but they presumably were transports or cargo carriers being used by the Germans to ferry men and supplies to North Africa.)

ALLIANCE PLAYS GOSHEN TONIGHT

Because both their games for tonight have been cancelled by reason of transportation difficulties,
the varsity and reserve teams of Alliance and Goshen will meet at Damasus tonight.

The reserve game will begin at 7:30 and the varsity game at 8:45
p. m. Alliance was to have met Erie (Pa.) East on the Stark county court tonight but Erie asked that the game be stricken from the schedule since they would have been unable to appear.

Fire Destroys Hose

DAYTON, Dec. 11—Fire in a fire department repair shop destroyed 1900 feet of new hose, loaned by the Office of Civilian Defense for emergency use by auxiliary firemen. The hose was set afire by a spark from an acetylene torch.

BOSTON—If W. Norman Ritchie

75-year-old Boston Post cartoonist, should injure either of his hands,
the thousands of newspaper readers who watch his work would never be wiser. Ambidextrous,
"Norman," as he is known, sketches
as effectively with his left as his right hand.

STRANGE STORIES ARE TOLD OF DESERT

Weather Quirks, Other Details Are Revealed by News Writer

Winter in the desert extends from November to April and there is much rain. In December and January the temperatures drop to freezing.

Summer is the dry, hot season.
Then temperatures soar to maybe 120 degrees or more Fahrenheit in theoretical shade, with soil temperatures much higher.

Beginning the middle of March the hot, southeast wind, known as the khamsin, blows periodically over a period of 50 days. This is one of the great trials of fighting men,
for it is like a blast from a furnace.

Five-day Limit

So terrible is this wind that if it blows more than five days each Bedouin is supposed to have the right to kill one of his wives.

In the present drive, the British have chased the enemy so fast that some of the Allied troops have to make their water-bottles do two or three days for all purposes. That means about a quart of water.

Another tribulation which would have made even Job lament is the Libyan fly. He looks like an ordinary housefly but he has a mean nature that is far removed from even the hoodlums among our house flies.

I am afraid that I have painted
a rather black picture of the desert.
Actually, it has many real attractions. On whole the desert is healthful enough despite its hardships. The British and American troops appear to be extremely well.

So, while the desert presents its problems for the Yankee soldiers, there really is no cause for anxiety back home on that score. It is probably more healthful in general than a lot of places which we chose to call civilized.

The name Casablanca means
"White House" in Spanish.

WICKARD'S POWER IS SENATE TOPIC

Agriculture Head Named
To Purchase Goods
For Soldiers

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—Talk of a possible new row between the army and the civilian administration was heard in senate cloak-rooms today—this time over Secretary of Agriculture Wickard's food control powers.

As reported by one senator, who asked to remain anonymous, the army is apprehensive over the broad new powers delegated to Wickard, pointing out that he couldn't, if he so chose, make the army eat beans seven days a week.

There has been no suggestion that Wickard harbors any such intention, the army critics concede, but they would like to regain full control over the army's diet.

President Roosevelt, in giving Secretary Wickard sweeping control over producing and distribution of food for domestic and overseas use, authorized and directed him to "purchase and procure food for such federal agencies and to such extent as he shall determine necessary or desirable, and promote policies to govern the purchase and procurement of food by all other federal agencies."

That, in effect, gives the secretary the power to fix the diet of the soldiers, sailors and marines, and what they are afraid of, the senatorial informant said, is that the department might try to provide them with an overabundance of food from a few surplus crops.

Wickard himself told a press conference yesterday that "our boys will be the best fed soldiers"
in the world.

He described the prospects of meeting wartime food needs as good, but would make no predictions as to the possibility of adding other foods to the rationed
list.

A century ago American sheep yielded an average of only two pounds of fleeces; now the average is eight pounds.

For every five tons of new steel that American railroads use they return to the mills four tons of scrap.

Her Case Withdrawn

Divorce case in which Mrs. Thomas McInerney, above, sought her freedom and $1,000,000 in alimony from her wealthy husband was suddenly withdrawn from the Fairfield county court docket at Bridgeport, Conn. No reason was given for the withdrawal. Mrs.
McInerney is a one-time Democratic national committeewoman from Kentucky and is prominent in Louisville and eastern social circles. McInerney is head of National Dairy Products Corp.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—Political leaders aren't counting Sen.
Robert A. Taft out of the running for the Republican presidential nomination in 1944.

Some suggest that it would be naive to assume that the senator eliminated himself when he announced his support of his friend, Gov. John W. Bricker, for the nomination.

Taft meant what he said, of course, but a sampling of opinion indicates a belief that he would do nothing to discourage any move in his behalf at the national convention.

The senator keeps his promises and his announcement was inevitable, although it came sooner than expected. Bricker was considered for the nomination in 1940 but stayed in the background in favor of Taft who had a good chance until the delegates jumped on the Wendell Willkie bandwagon. Taft promised to do the same for Bricker.

The senator isn't expected personally to do other than talk for Bricker between now and 1944. He would like to see the three-time
governor of Ohio in the White House. But he has ardent supporters who'll wager that Taft isn't out of the picture completely.

There are many factors involved.
Sensing victory in the next presidential election, the Republicans are looking for a winner. Bricker might be the choice on the basis of his vote-getting ability.

Even his opponents concede that he is an excellent administrator and would be a good presidential choice, particularly if the war ends.
Taft, son of former President and Chief Justice William Howard Taft, is better known perhaps and is an avid student of world affairs as well as national problems.

A Brindisi is a drinking song,
the name being derived from the Italian word meaning toast.

War Plant Workers Vacation In South

CLEVELAND, Dec. 11 — Key workers at the fabulous Jack & Heintz Co., which has been criticized by some industries for "spoiling" its employees, are vacationing in Florida at company expense to "keep fit" for their jobs in the busy war plant.

William S. Jack, company president, said today that every two weeks 11 couples are sent to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where the concern maintains 11 apartments.

"This allows for four days of travel and 10 days at the seaside, where these employees may enjoy the sunshine and the sea air and recuperate," Jack said. "They come back ready to resume their 12-hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week confining jobs with added enthusiasm and improved physical condition."

The idea back of these vacations in the south is to maintain the efficiency of some 200 men "who have not lost a minute in more than a year."

"These men are vital to our production program, and we must keep them fit, as we have a big job to do to help win this war," Jack declared.

"We go through our plants and find men on whom the grind is beginning to tell and select those who are tired or in ill health and send them to Florida. Fortunately, we are able to replace them with other men while they are away."

Next summer, the company expects to send 30 men north to lake resorts every 10 days, the president added.

Jack & Heintz, which has plants here and at nearby Bedford, early this year was investigated by a congressional committee looking into the plant's profits on contracts for electric airplane starters. Testimony before the committee revealed that enormous bonuses had been paid to officials and employees of the concern.

SALEM, OHIO

GIRL IN THE GREEN COAT

by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN
Mr. Grant was mopping the foyer when I ran downstairs on my way to the office at a quarter to seven. He had on his old derby hat, and his greenish coat and though he always acted as if he were invisible when doubling for the janitor, this time he didn't.

He looked at me mournfully, over his gold-rimmed spectacles. "Miss Driscoll, you shouldn't stay in the building. It's no place for you—no place for you."

"Oh, it seems to be all right again," I said, trying to be bright and flippant because I couldn't stand his sad eyes, and the grizzly pink mop in his hands, "everybody knows now, and nobody seems to care!"

"No—wait! This business, last night. It's not the last. You mark my words, not the last!"

"It was an accident—a frightful accident—but only an accident. It didn't have anything to do with the other thing." I had stepped around his pail and mops and was almost at the door now. "Goodbye, have to get to work," I said.

He looked after me, shaking his head sadly, from side to side.

I was glad enough to get out into the air, and presently into the office, where ensanguined halls are just good copy, and murders are only news. Last night's events made headlines in all the papers, and ours came out with Madame Hurd's story, her portrait as Carmen, a two column enlargement of Pete Raymond's ear, and the thirty calibre pistol they were now trying to prove was his. Also a cut of the late Gil Castle and a merry party aboard the yacht "Eleanore," taken last summer.

What was the real story? I didn't for a moment think that Pete Raymond was the man, but just how did he come into it? Who was this Ben Howell who worked for him? Why had he shadowed Raymond and why had they had that horrible fight in our building? Why had Ben Howell turned against his employer, and why had he drawn a gun and shot him?

They were well enough known around town. Big money changed hands in Raymond's innocent looking cigar stands and pool-rooms. Howell had worked for Raymond for eleven years. Everybody knew them. But nobody knew any of the things that might have helped. It was still a mystery, and I didn't even have time to call the hospital and ask about Emilie, before it was time to leave for the funeral.

It was private, just a few people, and an avalanche of hot-house flowers. I could not find my few lilies-of-the-valley. They were lost somewhere under sheaves of orchids and gardenias and roses. I got the lilies-of-the-valley because he bought some for me once. I thought he must have liked them.

Mrs. Castle, in deepest mourning, was surrounded by a tight, solicitous little group of staid elderly women, and impressive gray-haired men. It was their affair. Gilbert Castle belonged to his mother at last!

I sat alone in a back pew, and when it was over I slipped out quietly.

Somehow I had not realized what it would be like. The murdered man about whom I had written thousands of words had never been Gil Castle to me. I knew it was he, and I knew that this man whom I used to love was dead, and that someone killed him. And yet I didn't know....I couldn't believe it....I couldn't realize that it was the end.

Now I knew.

I did not write a good story. I couldn't.

Josh read it over, frowning. "Can't you put some heart in it?" he said. "It's a good, human-interest story. The broken-hearted mother, and the old Castle servants, and maybe the murderer sitting there in a pew. Don't you get it? And you might have a couple of 'B' girls, pushing their way through the crowd and crying, 'see'?"

I tried again. It still lacked heart.

I read it, added a few adjectives, and let it go. "O. K.," he said, "go to lunch, and then drop over and see how Hare is coming with Pete Raymond. And by the way, here's Emilie's statement. Hare got it out of her, read it before you go."

He turned back to his telephone. There was a fire in Chinatown.

I picked up Emilie's statement. I wish I'd gone in the interior decorating business, or gone to business school, or come of a long line of acrobats, or had fifty dollars saved up, so I could quit.

There was one consolation, Emilie wasn't as sick as I had feared, if she was able to make a long statement like this one.

There were several long typewritten pages of questions and answers.

She said (as she had told Peg and me already) that she had had the flu, had taken something to make her sleep on the night of the murder and did not see or hear her ex-husband, Pete Raymond, or anyone else after she took the sleeping tablets at eight, until I woke her and told her what had happened, about seven the next morning.

She admitted that Pete had a pistol in the days when she lived with him as his wife, but did not think it was like the one that was found by the murdered man's side.

"I could not swear it," she said, "but I think it was smaller. All I know is that he kept it by his bed at night and I never knew him to use it, or even load it or clean it. He kept it in his top bureau drawer in the day time, and put it by his side, on a table or chair, at night."

"He never killed a living thing. He never hunted or even fished, as other men do. He was so squeamish that he wouldn't eat in a restaurant that had a raw-meat or fowl display in the window, and he never wanted me to cook at home because he said that egg-shells and raw meat and things made him sick. Now, does a man like that go out and shoot another man for no reason what ever?"

"And though he did say that he knew the late Mr. Castle, I really doubt that he did, for he was losing consciousness when he made that statement. I do not think he understood the question. I think he thought he was being asked about Mr. Howell."

There were several pages of questions and answers about Howell and the affair of last night, but nothing new. She just told about Pete coming to see her early in the evening and sitting by her bed. She said she did not hear anyone at the door, but heard Pete jump up and open the door, and then there was the scuffle and the shot, and the fall. By the time she was out of bed and in the hall, we were all there and she could add nothing to the story.

She said she had known Howell ever since she was married, that to her knowledge they had always been on the best of terms and Pete trusted him implicitly. She said that Pete used him as a sort of detective, and that he located her when she left Pete, and was trying to hide from him. She said that she detested Howell, but Pete considered him a loyal friend. Emilie could throw no light on the reason for their tragic quarrel.

"Pete just wasn't a fighter," she said. "He was all bluff and noise. Whatever it was, it was Howell's doing, I'm sure of that."

When I saw Inspector Hare, a half hour later, he admitted he was disappointed with Emilie's statement.

"But I may do more with her later," he said. "She's trying to shield him. She still loves him, even if they were divorced. There was nothing serious with the other boy friends she had, apparently, and a smoldering-eyed brunette is going to have some kind of a love-life, you bet."

"That's what all men think about all women," I said.

"I didn't say all women," Hare said, grinning.

I let that one pass.

"So you think Pete Raymond is your man?"

"I'm not saying anything yet. But with Madame Hurd's identification—"

"He's the man she THINKS she saw coming out of the building at 10 o'clock, and the coroner says Castle was shot at 11—"

"Aw, the old dame doesn't know what time it was. Thinks it was 10. I think it was 11:30."

"All right," I said, "have it your own way. Personally, I don't think Madame Hurd would recognize her grandfather if he met him on the street. She's blind as a bat without her glasses and she only wears them when she is reading."

He handed me one of the huge photographs of Pete Raymond's oddly shaped, lobeless ear.

"Would you need perfect vision to recognize that?"

"Would you jump at the chance to get your picture and past glory in all the papers if you were a broken down old vocal teacher trying to get a little advertising and some more pupils?"

"Why are you so darned sure I'm on the wrong track?" he demanded. "If you know anything, come out with it!"

Then his telephone rang. As he listened his florid face reddened angrily.

"Nuts!" he said, and hung up. "You see," he said to me, as if it were my fault, "Raymond's dead. Cerebral hemorrhage, died without regaining consciousness at all. I only wanted two minutes with him. Wouldn't you think he'd come to before he kicked off? NUTS!"

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Recently-born baby Stephen Terry Wurmser—weight 8 pounds, 12 ounces at the time of his birth—is now the last lineal descendant of George Washington. He was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wurmser, Mr.

Wurmser's position of last lineal descendant of the Father of His Country has been authentically established and he still was enjoying the distinction until his baby son added a new generation to the family, and ousted him as the "last".

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—More than 10,000 Southern California housewives have returned to State Sugar Rationer Paul d'Orr Barksdale their sugar ration books. Most of the accompanying letters were of the same general trend, namely: "I have all the sugar I need and it hurts my conscience to keep this book which would entitle me to even more when I prefer that it be used for the national defense."

The Timekeepers added a precious game to their slender Mullins league lead in action at the Grate alleys last night. The pace setters racked up two wins over an Office five which has risen fast.

Production lost the initial encounter of their set with the Cutters by two pins but bounced back to take the last two, making firm their No. 2 position in the race. Inspection notched two wins over Shell Line 1 while Shell Line 2 conquered the Tryouts twice and Tool & Die copped three on forfeit from the last place Millwrights.

In a postponed match, the second place Production lost twice to the Office.

EARN VARSITY "H" IN FINAL CONTEST

Harvard Second Stringer Boots Three Pointer In Only Action

(By International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—When Bob Fisher made good in the Harvard and Yale game, the story was greater than that of the score or the plays. This boy, eldest son of the late Bob Fisher earned his "H" in a last minute spurt to join the famous family circle.

The field goal kicked against the Elis was the only bit of varsity action that Bob saw in all his years of college struggle. Always before him he had the record of his father and the fact that his three brothers had letters.

When Bob went to college he had none of the physical qualifications that the others had. He fought and struggled on the junior varsity up to and almost including his senior year. Brother Jack had won a first-team berth at Harvard center right off, 18-year-old Bill had earned a tackle position after several games, and Rollo had also carried off his letter.

Two weeks before the Yale game, the Harvard coaches put him on the varsity. Almost over night he had gained poundage. He had developed more power and punch and his blocking was so good that the first team had trouble with it in daily work-outs.

Even then he saw no action and when the Yale game arrived, his last chance to make good seemed about gone. Then with 36 seconds to play in the second period, the call came. A veteran might have quailed in this crisis, for the attempted field goal was to be made from a difficult angle.

Bob went out and kept his head. In fact he kept his head down which many veterans forget in a crisis, while making a kick. The ball needed power and accuracy. It did not appear to have either as it wobbled to the cross-bars, but it flopped over to give Harvard a three point lead and Bob his second of fame and place him forever within the family circle.

It may be that those three points kept Harvard from winning the game. The lead that Bob had given them seemed so precious that his team-mates did not try the passes which Dick Harlow had devised and which were expected to prove very important.

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—Pvt. Freeman B. Johnson, Jr., 18, after only three weeks' training as a Marine, decided to show his superiors what he could do even without training. He gulped down for breakfast 36 boiled eggs. He explained to the alarmed officers that it was an old habit of his and that he often took 17 eggs at one sitting. The Marine officers put their heads together and came out of the huddle with the calculation that Johnson had eaten the egg ratings of 13 men.

Youngstown's Frankie Sinkwich Paces 1942 AP All-America

Wildung, Schreiner Repeat At Line Posts; Dobbs, Paul Governali, Holovak Chosen

By HERB BARKER
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Reflecting the tremendous concentration of football strength in the Big Ten and Southeastern conferences, the 18th annual All-America team, chosen today by The Associated Press, allots six places to those two powerful leagues, awards two to the East, and one each to the Missouri Valley, Southern and Pacific Coast conferences. On the All-America squad of 33 players, named after a nation-wide survey of expert opinion, nearly two-thirds are drawn from the Middle West and the South. The actual break-down shows 11 from the South, 10 from the Mid-West, five from the Far West, four from the East and three from the Southwest.

This year's All-America offers three "repeaters" from the 1941 team in the person of Frank Sinkwich, sensational backfield ace of the Georgia Bulldogs, Southeastern champion and Rose Bowl nominee; Dave Schreiner, crack Wisconsin end, and Dick Wildung, Minnesota's great tackle.

Rounding out the All-America backfield with Sinkwich are Glenn Dobbs, quarterback of Tulsa's Missouri Valley champions and Sugar Bowl nominee; Paul Governali, demon-passer of Columbia university and Mike Holovak, powerful Boston College back.

Schreiner's running mate at end is Bob Shaw of Ohio State's Big Ten champions, while Clyde Johnson, Kentucky's six-foot, six-inch line star, shares the tackle posts with Wildung.

Named to the guard positions are Garrard Ramsey of William & Mary, Southern conference titleholder, and Chuck Taylor of Stanford's Indians. The center is Joe Domnanovich, captain of Alabama's Crimson Tide.

The line, anchored by the huge Johnson's 235 pounds, is one of the heaviest ever chosen for the All-America, averaging 204 pounds. The backfield hits a 190-pound average.

Tulsa, William & Mary, Kentucky and Columbia all are given representation for the first time since 1925 when the Associated Press first selected its All-America. In 1930, was Wes Fessler, also an end. The Buckeyes' 1942 representative, Shaw, is the only junior on the team. All the others are seniors.

May Be Last For War
This, the first war-time All-America in a quarter century may well be the last for some time. Most of the hundreds of players who figure in the selections long before another football season rolls around.

As a matter of fact, it is doubtful that another full-time collegiate season will be held until the war is over. Transportation and man-power problems may become insurmountable before the 1943 season.

But, if the 1942 campaign was the last for the duration, the boys who played the game made it a good one. It was the daffiest, most unpredictable season in memory, partly because sophomores and freshmen were used freely to make up shortages in varsity manpower.

But out of the excitement, one fact definitely was established—that no section in the country could match the power of the Big Ten, with Ohio State, Wisconsin and Michigan or the Southwest, East and Far West.

The All-America backfield, as chosen, represents a nice balance of offensive and defensive strength. Headliner All Season

Sinkwich, named to the All-America for the second successive year, was a headline performer all season and none could seriously challenge his right to a berth on any all-star squad.

Statistics are dry stuff but in Sinkwich's case they serve to illustrate his all-around effectiveness and his immense value to Georgia's fine team. Youngstown Frankie set up a new national record in total offense with 2,174 yards, picking up more than 1,300 yards by passing and averaging better than five yards a try on the ground. Developing as a kicker this season, he averaged better than 36 yards a try. In addition to captaining the team, Sinkwich called the signals and kicked off.

It is doubtful if any player in the country accomplished more, with less support, than black-haired, durable Governali. His passing performances are down in cold figures: 67 completed in 165 attempts for 19 touchdowns and 1442 yards. The touchdown total ties the modern record established by Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian in 1938; the yardage total is just 15 yards short of the record held jointly by O'Brien and Bud Schwenk of Washington University, St. Louis.

Dobbs who packs 190 pounds on his six-foot four-inch frame was the principal reason for Tulsa's unbroken string of ten victories. This was especially true in Tulsa's victories over such major rivals as Oklahoma and Baylor and to a lesser degree over Arkansas.

Tulsa so far outclassed the opposition in its own conference the Missouri Valley that Dobbs was used sparingly for the most part. The Golden Hurricane beat every team it faced by not less than 23 points and thus simply did not need to take full advantage of Dobbs' great football talents. The Hurricane ran up 427 points against the opposition's 32 taking Oklahoma Baylor and Arkansas over the hurdles by a collective 87-7 score.

Holovak Showed Power
For a time this season Holovak carried the full burden of Boston College's offense on his powerful shoulders. Later on in the season, big Mike got some help but there never was any question about his position as the Eagles' greatest all-around back, defensively as well as offensively.

Up until the Holy Cross debacle when Boston College's tight game winning streak was smashed, Holovak averaged better than 100 yards a game with his plunges through opposing forward walls or his sweeps around the ends.

Shaw was another 60-minute performer for Ohio State which ran through a tough ten-game schedule with only one loss and finished off with a tremendous 41-12 conquest of Bernie Bierman's Iowa Pre-flighters.

PRO GRID LEAGUE TO SUSPEND SLATE

Lack of Material, Small Crowds Induce Ten Owners to Quit

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—After a session of listening to some of the National Football league's "smart guys," who can see the handwriting on the wall, you were left with the idea today that the gridiron's top professional loop probably will close up for the duration.

The chief reasons for suspension of the circuit—as now appears likely—are (1) playing material next fall is going to be a lot scarcer than it was in '42—which was bad enough, the coaches tell you—and (2) the loop's moguls don't need a crystal ball to figure out fans aren't going to force anyone to hang out the S. R. O. sign next fall, what with a lot of players gone to war, plus the extra difficulties of transportation.

This is not to say that the circuit's ten club-owners are going to announce any decision to suspend at their important meeting in Washington Monday, even though Danny Reeves, the Cleveland club owner, has indicated he'd be all for that.

However, there's considerably more than an outside chance that the loop's championship playoff in Washington Sunday, between the Bears and the revenge-seeking Redskins, may be the last game for the duration. According to a couple of men close to the league, the magnates will probably all see the light next spring and wrap it up until the war ends.

Today's Guest Star

Jimmy Chapman, Macon (Ga.) Telegraph: "See by the papers that high school coaches will get 'B' gasoline rationing books for use in hauling basketball players in their private autos this winter. And where'll they 'B' when they get there on four gallons more per week?"

TEXAS KEGLER LEADS IN CHICAGO TOURNEY

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Buddy Bonar, the Houston, Tex., bowling wizard who has rolled 25 perfect games, was the favorite today to win the national match game championship of Chicago's all-star tournament.

After a 36-game grind through an elimination field of 100, Bonar emerged last night with a 6328 total—an average of 210.93.

The slender Texan headed a list of 12 competitors who today will enter round robin matches totaling 72 games with the champion being determined Sunday.

In second place in the all star field was Connie Schwegler of Madison, Wis., whose 30 games totaled 6126—202 short of equaling Bonar's.

Service Dept.
Football and tank hunting are a lot alike, according to Lieut. Clark Hetherington, former Oklahoma U. polo and gridiron performer. The guys who have gone through the football mill don't mind little discomforts like crawling under 40 yards of barbed wire and losing patches of skin. "It's just another game to them," he says.

apparently there's one state that can give Ohio an argument about being the best gridiron nursery.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Precedent? . . . during the Eastern Inter-collegiate Football association meeting the other day, Prexy Lew Andress called upon the newspapermen (who normally aren't even admitted to the inner sanctum) to express their ideas . . . he got an earful.

"You guys aren't doing your jobs right," one scribe told the athletic directors. "If you believe college athletics have a real value in wartime, why don't you find out where you stand instead of waiting for someone to tell you to quit?"

Idea Man
The approach of the basketball season brings to mind another newspaperman with an idea, Ned Irish . . . you may know the story of how Ned got tired of charging through crowds to get into the pint-sized local gyms and as a result moved basketball into the big-time sports class with his Madison Square Garden double-headers . . . his main idea was to give the fans a comfortable place to see their favorite sport and to give them a good show for their money.

Today's Guest Star
Jimmy Chapman, Macon (Ga.) Telegraph: "See by the papers that high school coaches will get 'B' gasoline rationing books for use in hauling basketball players in their private autos this winter. And where'll they 'B' when they get there on four gallons more per week?"

Service Dept.
Football and tank hunting are a lot alike, according to Lieut. Clark Hetherington, former Oklahoma U. polo and gridiron performer. The guys who have gone through the football mill don't mind little discomforts like crawling under 40 yards of barbed wire and losing patches of skin. "It's just another game to them," he says.

DEFENSE WORK MAY TAKE BALL PLAYERS

Rickey Discloses Reiser Has Been Placed In 1-A For Draft

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Doubt that baseball players who have taken defense jobs this winter will all be back with their clubs next spring was expressed today by Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Discussing baseball's place in the war effort at a press conference, Rickey said, "I think the government wants to see the sport continued, but I think we must do it with men the government doesn't want—men who would be idle otherwise."

"A very radical thing has been done in the last ten days. The government now can tell people where to work and where not to work."

"Now a number of ball players have taken up various kinds of other work this winter. Some of their jobs may be of great importance to the war effort and others may not. But it is conceivable that many of those now working will be held in essential industry. We'll just have to get along with what we have."

Rickey disclosed that one of the Dodger's brightest stars had just about crossed the threshold of the army. Peter Reiser, the flashy

OHIO CAGE TEAMS PLAY FEWER FOES; RATIONING CAUSE

Wittenberg Cancels Road Games, Long Island Fray Included

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Dec. 11.—The heavy hand of gasoline and tire rationing, along with restricted train and bus transportation, makes its presence felt on Ohio's 1942-43 college basketball schedule.

The "long hauls" of yesterday are "out" as the majority of the teams play close to their own backyards, and in most cases the number of contests has been slashed considerably.

A quick look at this season's slate, as compared with that of 1941-42, discloses:

1941-42	1942-43
Ohio teams playing outside state	73 45
Games in Ohio with invading teams	80 53
Ohio conference games	148 139
Total games for Ohio teams	422 339

Withdrawal of Bowling Green from the Ohio conference last weekend erased 12 contests from the league slate and shoved them into the "just for fun" non-league division. Had the Falcons stayed in the loop, the schedule would show with 121 a year ago, while the non-league events between Ohio teams would have been 127 as compared with 148 last season.

The heaviest loss is in the interstate division, where 55 contests have been erased since last season, 38 on the foreign floors and 27 on the home hardwoods.

Wittenberg dropped seven out-of-state games from its schedule yesterday cancelling contests with Washington and Jefferson, Villanova, East Stroudsburg Teachers, Moravian, Rider, Long Island and City College of New York.

Last year the Buck colleges played three Sunday games, but none appears on this season's slate. Purdue tangles with Toledo on New Year's Day, but the basketballs take a two-day layoff for Christmas Eve and Christmas Day are open, with DePaul engaging Toledo in the next contest Dec. 26.

County's Food Production Goals To Be Formulated Soon

County Objectives Will Be Similar, Proportionately, To Those Set Up for State

Columbiana county's 1943 food production goals will be formulated at a special meeting of the Ohio USDA War Board sometime within the next two weeks, George H. Rogers, chairman of the county USDA board, revealed today.

It is expected that county goals will parallel, on a smaller scale, the Ohio goals announced by State USDA War Board Chairman Elmer F. Kruse, following a special goals conference with Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard at Chicago last week.

The 1943 farm production program calls for increased output of almost all farm commodities, excepting wheat and soybeans.

Further Boost Asked
Buckeye farmers, who shattered many long-standing production records during the past 12 months, are asked to boost still higher their 1943 output of hogs, cattle, sheep, milk, eggs, poultry, corn, Irish potatoes, commercial truck crops, tobacco and hay seed crops.

The 1943 Food-for-Freedom goals should be studied carefully by every farm family in Columbiana county," Rogers asserted, "in light of the fact that this nation's food production ties in directly with the global strategy of the United Nations."

He warned that unless farmers keep food and fiber production "on the upswing" that the Allies' war machine will receive a "severe setback at a time when all the strength and resources possible will be needed for a victory over the Axis."

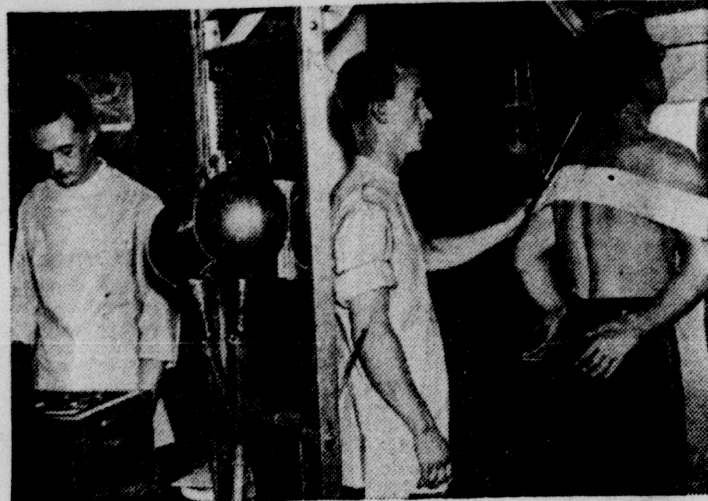

Ohio's 1943 Food-for-Freedom goals, along with comparative estimates of 1942 production, are:

HOGS: 994,000 sows to farrow in 1943 as compared with an estimated 884,000 in 1942; an approximate 12 1/2 per cent increase.

CATTLE AND CALVES: Ten per cent increase in 1943 over 1942. Suggested marketing and farm slaughter in 1943 is 1,068,000 head as compared with 973,000 head in 1942 and 853,000 head in 1941.

More Sheep and Lambs
SHEEP AND LAMBS: Seven per cent increase over 1942 asked for next year, which would mean total number of 1,135,000 sheep and lambs for marketing and farm slaughter in 1943, as compared with 285,000 acres in 1943—95 per cent of 1942's indicated 2,379,000 acres.

SOYBEANS HARVESTED FOR BEANS: 1,175,000 acres in 1943, as compared with 1,207,000 acres harvested in 1942. The 1943 goal, however, is 97 per cent of the acreage harvested for beans in 1942.

SUGAR BEETS: Same as 1942, or 52,000 acres.

IRISH POTATOES: 108,000 acres—a 10 per cent increase over the 89,000 acres planted in Ohio in 1942.

HAY SEED: Suggested 1943 seed production and acreage for harvest compared with 1942.

ALFALFA: 1,000,000 pounds of seeds to be produced in 1943 and 14,000 acres to be planted for harvest, or an increase of 55 per cent over 1942.

RED CLOVER: 21,000,000 pounds of seeds and 350,000 acres to be planted for harvest in 1943, an increase of 94 per cent over 1942.

SWEET CLOVER: 1,200,000 pounds of seeds and 9,000 acres to be planted for harvest in 1943, representing an increase of 32 per cent over 1942.

ALSIKE: 5,000,000 pounds of seeds and 52,000 acres to be planted for harvest in 1943, representing an increase of 175 per cent over 1942.

Leetonia Church To Display Bibles

LEETONIA, Dec. 11—An interesting display of Bibles has been arranged by Charles S. Anglimyer for Universal Bible Sunday, Dec. 13, at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

One of the Bibles is over 270 years old, a 1670 edition of Martin Luther's translation into German. It is being loaned by J. M. Bellhart. The book is 12 inches wide, 18 inches long and 6 inches thick, bound in pigskin with metal corners and clasps.

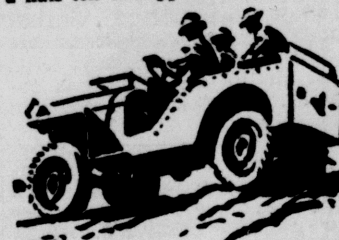

It contains Bible history and many illustrations. This unusual copy of the Bible was brought to this country from Germany by Mr. Bellhart's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Bellhart. This display will be placed in the vestibule of the church.

Friends of LeVerne Calvin held a farewell party at his home Tuesday evening. Mr. Calvin left Wednesday for Ft. Hayes, Columbus, where he has enlisted in the U. S. Army air corps. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Calvin.
